Soon, we reach Bratang, once a base for troops defending against the Khampa rebels—its weathered buildings echoing stories of the past.

Crossing a wooden bridge, we follow a high path winding through dense pine forests until the valley opens up, revealing the sweeping beauty of the Manang Valley. Annapurna II and Pisang Peak rise impressively in the distance. As we approach Pisang, a mani stone wall signals our arrival in Lower Pisang, with a short uphill climb leading us to Upper Pisang for an overnight stay in a welcoming lodge.

Day 07:: Trek from Pisang to Manang (3,440m/11,287ft)- Lodge

Approx. Walking: 6-7 hours trek Approx. Distance: 15 km

The trek from Upper Pisang to Manang via Gyaru is among the most scenic sections of the Annapurna Round, with breathtaking views of Annapurna II, III, IV, Gangapurna and Tilicho Peak. Starting from Upper Pisang, a steep ascent takes you to Gyaru (3,670m/12,040ft), an ancient ridge-top village with sweeping vistas of the Annapurna range, perfect for a short rest and photos.

The trail from Gyaru continues along a rolling path through high-altitude terrain with expansive valley views and minimal crowds. After reaching Ngawal (3,660m/12,010ft), the landscape shifts to a dry, rocky terrain typical of the rain-shadow area, eventually descending toward the valley floor and into sparse forests.

Finally, you join the main trail to Manang (3,540m/11,614ft), a lively village rich in cultural landmarks, bakeries, and the Himalayan Rescue Association's center for altitude safety. This trek beautifully combines stunning scenery with high-altitude trekking and a glimpse into the cultural heart of the Himalayas.

Day 08:: Rest/Acclimatization in Manang (3440m/11287ft) - Lodge

The acclimatization day in Manang (3,540m/11,614ft) is essential for adapting to higher altitudes as you prepare to trek further along the Annapurna Circuit. This day provides a blend of light activity and rest, which helps your body acclimate effectively and minimizes the risk of altitude sickness. Our expert Sherpa guide will tailor an acclimatization hike based on your energy levels and interest, ensuring you gain the most benefit.

One popular hike is to Gangapurna Lake (3,900m/12,795ft), where serene waters reflect the Annapurna and Tilicho ranges. Another incredible option is the hike to Praken Gompa, a monastery perched above Manang at around 3,900m, where a resident monk offers blessings and wisdom to trekkers. Both hikes offer the "climb high, sleep low" experience, a proven method for safe acclimatization.

After an enriching day of gentle adventure and cultural exploration, you'll return to the lodge well-prepared and excited for the trek's higher altitudes that lie ahead.

In the late afternoon, take some time to wander around Manang village, where you can relax with a coffee at one of the charming local bakeries. Be sure to sample fresh pastries and the region's unique yak cheese, which offer a delightful taste of the local flavors. This peaceful time in the village allows you to soak in the mountain views, connect with local culture, and unwind before the adventures ahead.

Day 09:: Trek from Manang to Yak Kharka (4050m/13290ft)- Lodge

Approx. Walking: 3-4 hours Approx. Distance: 10km/6 miles

Leaving Manang, we begin our journey toward Thorong La's base with a steady ascent, first crossing a suspension bridge over the Marsyangdi River. The trail climbs gradually to the village of Tenki (3,760m/12,336ft), located on a hill just above Manang, where we can catch beautiful views back over the valley. From Tenki, we continue northwest, entering the Jarsang Khola Valley, a more open, high-altitude valley surrounded by dramatic peaks.

The path leads us to the small settlement of Ghunsa (3,950m/12,959ft), with its distinctive flat-roofed mud houses, a traditional style well-suited to the alpine environment. Passing Ghunsa, we reach open meadows where yaks and horses graze, giving us a glimpse of local highland life. The trail becomes rockier as we cross a small wooden bridge over a glacial stream before arriving at Yak Kharka (4,050m/13,287ft), a charming village that marks our next stop.

Once settled at a guesthouse, we'll have lunch and rest before an acclimatization hike up the surrounding hills, providing additional altitude adjustment. Keep an eye out for Himalayan blue sheep, which are often spotted in the rugged terrain around Yak Kharka.

Day 10:: Trek to Thorong Phedi (4,450meter/14,599 feet)-Lodge

Approx. Walking: (3 - 4 hours). Approx. Distance: 9km/5.5 miles

On this day, we set our sights on Thorong Phedi, the gateway to the majestic Thorong La pass. As we ascend, the landscape transforms into a more rugged and barren terrain, showcasing the raw beauty of the Himalayas. Our trek leads us down to cross the Jarsang Khola, a sparkling stream that winds its way through the valley, before we navigate a scree slope that brings us to the humble teahouses at Thorong Phedi (4,420m).

This tiny settlement may seem modest, but it serves as a vital hub for weary trekkers. The atmosphere is bustling with activity as locals cater to the needs of tired adventurers, providing meals and a warm place to rest. Here, it feels like we've reached our own mini base camp, surrounded by towering peaks and the anticipation of the challenge ahead.

While many trekkers push on to Thorong High Camp on the same day, our experienced team at Mountain Sherpa Trekking highly recommends pausing here for a restful night. This strategy not only helps acclimatize your body to the altitude but also sets you up for a more manageable ascent to the pass the following day. Taking this crucial time to relax will significantly reduce the risk of altitude sickness, ensuring you're fully prepared for the adventure that awaits. Enjoy the evening soaking in the stunning mountain vistas, knowing that tomorrow's journey will be even more rewarding.

Drinking-Water during Annapurna Round Trek

For many of us, the perfect choice may be to go for mineral water. After all, it's sealed and safe to drink, plus it provides an income for the local traders – right? Regrettably, things are never quite that simple. Mineral water produces a vast number of knock-on problems for mountain societies.

While it does provide an income to local people it also generates an extraordinary, heart-breaking amount of waste and spoiling. Most places simply do not have the resources to do anything with the empty plastic bottles – and they burn them, releasing toxic gases into the air, or leave them in piles just out of sight of travelers, where they take more than 450 years to decompose.

Take, for example, Annapurna Circuit Trek. The recommended amount of water intake on a high-altitude trek like this is 3-4 liters a day. The trek is 11 days long. That's more than approximately 33 liters and 33 plastic bottles, which won't decompose until the year 2466 – per person.

For a full MST group of 12 people, just one trip will result in more than 396-400 mineral water bottles. And the salt in the wound is that plastic doesn't decompose at high altitudes, so those 360 or more bottles will be up there forever. But what can you do? You have to drink, so how can you get around the problem?

The Alternatives: The great news is that there are really various options that will help you out of the bottled water trap. Here are just four of the best. All you have to do is pick which one is right for you.

Striped- Steripen is the most trusted model on the market. This technique uses exactly the same process as most mineral water undergoes before it is bottled. It's UV filtering, exactly the same treatment as the majority of bottled water undergoes to be purified, but on the go. The technology has been around for much longer than you think, but it's only recently been competitively priced enough to be on the market. SteriPen is an American company; other UV filters are also available.

Boiled water– This isn't always an option if you're out and about, but boiled water is an excellent option for safe drinking water on trek. Boiling the water kills any nastiness lurking there. It is the safest and most convenient option. Most lodges serve it, and it is great to ward off the cold. Prices range anywhere between NPR 50 and 120 per liter.

Purification tablets– Water refining tablets or chemicals like chlorine dioxide are frequently used. They are easy to carry and cheap to buy. However, they are not as effective as UV filters or boiled water and need a few hours to act. Besides these, LifeStraw and iodine-based treatments are also available but have their drawbacks. ## Transportation

KATHMANDU-BESISAHAR (190 KM): 5-6 HOURS DRIVE

It takes about 5-6 hours to reach Besi Sahar from Kathmandu. Besisahar is about 190-kilometer far from Nepal's capital city. With Mountain Sherpa trekking trips, you will travel in a small private vehicle. So, we provide you private vehicle with an experienced driver for a comfortable and safe journey. The advantage of taking a private vehicle is that you can ask your driver to stop whenever you like and smaller vehicles tend to be able to move through the traffic a little faster than larger buses. We also provide professional and experienced drivers, so you can fully and comfortably enjoy your Nepal Trek.

Shared Jeep from Besisahar to Dharapani:

With the road now constructed, we highly recommend driving up to Dharapani to begin your trek. While the road conditions may be bumpy and off-road in places, we will arrange for a well-maintained local jeep driven by an experienced driver to ensure a smooth and comfortable journey. Your safety and comfort are our top priorities, allowing you to enjoy the breathtaking scenery along the way as you prepare to start your adventure!

Kimche to Pokhara by Private Jeep

We conclude our trek at the lower Modi Khola in Kimche, where you'll be transferred back to Pokhara in a private vehicle. The drive takes approximately 2-3 hours, offering you a chance to relax and reflect on your incredible journey. Arriving in Pokhara by late afternoon, you'll be greeted by the stunning landscapes and vibrant atmosphere of this beautiful city.

At Mountain Sherpa Trekking, we prioritize your comfort and safety, so we ensure that all our vehicles are in excellent condition. Our experienced drivers are dedicated to providing a smooth and secure ride, allowing you to sit back and enjoy the scenic views along the way. Your return to Pokhara will be a seamless experience, perfectly wrapping up your unforgettable trek!

Pokhara-Kathmandu Flight:

Our Annapurna Round trek includes a scenic flight from Pokhara-Kathmandu. Kathmandu may not seem far from Pokhara (the cities are only 126 miles / 204 km apart), but the Nepali landscape and road quality make for a very long drive. That's why we recommend our clients opt to fly instead of a long drive.

Flying is by far the fastest and most comfortable way of traveling between Kathmandu and Pokhara and is highly suggested if you're short on time and looking for a comfortable journey. There are several flights that leave each day from the domestic terminal of Tribhuvan Airport and take only around 25 minutes. It's a very scenic flight, particularly if you sit on the right-hand side of the plane, so you can see the Himalayas. When flying, you're likely to arrive feeling enthusiastic and with plenty of time for activities the same day, which can't really be said if you make the trip overland.

Naturally Pokhara. The charming city has numerous beautiful lakes and offers stunning panoramic views of the Fishtail Mountain flanked by the Majestic Himalayas. Pokhara is an amazing place for natural beauty at an altitude of 827 meters from sea level and 200 km west of Kathmandu. It is also one of the most popular tourist destinations in the country.

Altitude Sickness

Altitude Sickness:

If you trek to a high altitude without letting your body adjust to the new elevation, you may experience altitude sickness. Symptoms include headache and nausea. If you return to a lower elevation, your symptoms will likely go away without needing treatment. In severe cases, altitude sickness can be life-threatening.

When we hike above 8,000 to 12,000 feet above sea level our bodies need to acclimatize to the decreasing amount of oxygen available. You may have symptoms if you travel to a high altitude without giving your body time to adjust to less oxygen. Even if you're physically fit, you can still experience altitude sickness.

Mountain Sherpa Annapurna sanctuary trek itinerary is carefully designed to avoid altitude sickness. Over the years we have come up with the best itinerary to aid in the acclimatization process. Our trek itinerary is fully flexible & can modify on the spot if required.

Remember the trek to the Himalayas is not a race. Even those in the best shape will suffer from altitude sickness when they race to the top of the mountain too quickly. Go slowly, it will give your body time to adjust to the mountain. However, during the acclimatization process, you may experience some of the following symptoms.

1. Tiredness
2. Minor Headache
3. Troubled sleep
4. Loss of appetite/nausea
5. Shortness of breath
6. Cough
7. Palpitation
8. Swelling of the hands and face

Each Person acclimatizes at different rates. Our best suggestion is to take your time and drink plenty of water. These symptoms may not indicate the onset of A.M.S. and if you experience them it does not necessarily mean that you should not continue. All our Sherpa guides have extensive first aid training and we request you to talk with the Sherpa guide at all times should you believe you have any symptoms in order that we can efficiently monitor your symptoms. The only cure for Acute Mountain Sickness is to descend.

You must remember that this is your holiday and you do not want to stress out about the possibility of getting sick from the mountains. Do everything slowly. Drink lots of water. And enjoy the Himalayas ' views. If anything does happen and you, unfortunately, get sick, let your guide know right away –Please note that your guide has ultimate responsibility and may ask you to descend if symptoms persist.

Travel insurance:

Travel insurance is necessary for any trip but is mainly important when undertaking activities such as high-altitude trekking in remote regions where medical facilities or assistance may not be close at hand. You'll enjoy your adventure better with the peace of mind that comes from knowing you have the right insurance cover in place should a mishap occur. This can be anything from medical emergencies, trip cancellation, trip interruption, delays, or lost or stolen luggage to a full helicopter rescue of a mountain.

Obtaining travel insurance before you leave home is strongly recommended. This way, if something happens, and this is rare, you will not be out of pocket a tremendous amount of money. Mountain Sherpa trekking will provide a letter and your invoice to submit to your insurance, in this case, to help expedite your processing.

Additional info:

As you pack for Annapurna Circuit Trek, remember that your gear will be separated into two packs: your daypack that you will carry each day as you trek, and your duffel bag which will be carried between tea houses by porters. All extra baggage (non- trekking items) can be stored at the hotel before you start your trek. We provide you with a free duffel bag in Kathmandu. You can use it to pack your essential trekking equipment. We provide one-porter services for two people. Porters will carry up to 25 kg - 30 Kg or 55-66 pounds of your personal items. This must include your sleeping bag and down jackets. Therefore your duffel bag should not weigh more than 12 kg-15 kg or 26 pounds to 33 pounds.

INSIDE YOUR DAYPACKS:

Daypacks can be any size for hiking, but we always recommend the smaller, the better. Around the 25l to 30l size is good for the upper mustang trek. You need to carry your own backpack (with a waterproof cover) where you can carry your daily needed items in your own backpack. For instance: Water bottle, Extra money for drinks, souvenirs & tips, sunhat, camera, important documents, toiletries, sunscreen, hand sanitizer, rain gear, music (iPhone), etc.

If you don't have your own down jacket & sleeping bag, don't worry. We will provide you with 4-season sleeping bags and a good down jacket with a hood for complementary use. Good quality sleeping bag and down jacket are most important for high altitude treks.
